

PROFILE

Name: Fernando Alonso Campos Calderon

Colegio de Biólogos ID: 2106

Marine biologist with wide experience on research, project management and teaching.

6 years on research and teaching
2 years working for NGO's

SKILLS

- 1 Fluent on Italian, English and native Spanish
- 2 Handling of statistical and data software as R, PAST, SPSS, SigmaPlot, PowerBI, MiniTab
- 3 Green Project Management certificate (GPM-b™).
- 4

CONTACT

TELÉFONO:
+506-8780 0880

CORREO ELECTRÓNICO:
Alocc13@gmail.com

FERNANDO ALONSO CAMPOS CALDERON

Marine biology, biological oceanography, green project management, social responsibility.

EDUCATION

University for International Cooperation (UCI), Master in Project Management
2018 - 2020

Universidad Nacional (UNA), Biology with emphasis on Marine Biology
2008 - 2012

WORK EXPERINCE

Universidad Nacional (UNA), Bachelor Instructor Professor
2013 - 2018

Researcher on the oceanography and coastal and management program. Collaborated with different research projects about ecology of coastal and pelagic fishes, contamination on coastal lagoons, and monitoring different environmental variables

Universidad de Costa Rica (UCR), Laboratory instructor
2014 - 2015

Teaching general biology for the laboratory course. Handled maximum of 3 groups of 20 undergraduate students.

SOS Tartarugas, Wildlife Ranger
2012 – 2012

Deterring illegal hunting of turtles. Collecting data for research purposes. Ecotourism and fundraising events.

Sea Turtle Conservancy, Research assistant
2012 – 2012

Collecting data for research Project. Supervising tourism activity on the national park. Assisting on specific biology/conservation topics with the local educational centers.

CAREER OBJECTIVE

Energetic and committed professional with a robust academic background and wide experience in modern and innovative procedures seeks to provide highest quality knowledge to complex environmental problems.